

Transactions

Irell & Manella LLP's Transactions practice provides a full range of services to our corporate clients. Our lawyers offer deep expertise in mergers and acquisitions, public and private offerings, corporate governance counseling and general business matters. Our client base ranges from privately held businesses, including start-up and emerging growth companies, to seasoned public companies, private equity funds, venture capital funds, hedge funds and individual investors. Irell brings broad deal expertise, knowledge of commercial law, creativity and practical know-how to every transaction.

Irell represents issuers, equity sponsors, purchasers, underwriters and other parties in private and public transactions across a wide range of industries. Our expertise in transactions includes advising issuers, entrepreneurs and investors in significant institutional and investment fund debt and equity investments in established businesses, Rule 144A transactions, "angel" start-up fundings, venture capital financings, merger and acquisition transactions, strategic investments and bridge loans.

Our attorneys have broad experience across other practice areas and draw on the expertise of our tax, intellectual property, bankruptcy, litigation and other practice groups to provide sophisticated, innovative and efficient service to our clients. Our attorneys utilize experts in these other practice areas to find creative and practical solutions for our clients.
