Charlotte Wen was selected as a 2023 Law360 Technology Rising Star. Charlotte was one of only four attorneys nationwide who were recognized in the Technology category. Law360 annually honors attorneys under 40 from around the country whose "legal accomplishments belie their age." Charlotte was recognized for being a core member of teams on VLSI Technology's pair of recent patent trial wins against Intel, including a $2.3 billion final judgment that was the largest U.S. patent judgment in history.
